A POISON TREE (QUESTION-ANSWERS)

NOTES

B. 1. What is the meaning of 'I told my wrath'?

'I told my wrath' means that the poet vocalised his feelings; that is, he spoke about it.

2. In the second stanza. "And I waterd it with fears, and night and morning with my tears' What makes the hard feelings grow?

In the second stanza, fears, tears and pain make the hard feelings grow stronger.

3. In the poem, does the speaker speak of the reason for the enmity?

No, the speaker doesn't speak of the reason for the enmity in the poem.

4. Why does the foe want the fruit?

The foe wanted the fruit because he knew it belonged to the poet.

5. What do you think the poet is saying can happen to us when our anger takes over?

The poet wants to say that when our anger takes over it becomes a poison in our bodies.
